

DISCLAIMERS – EMAIL AND NEWSLETTER

Notes and rules regarding use of these Disclaimers

Please note that these disclaimers are generic. They do NOT include the following:

- an unsubscribe notice for Spam Act purposes; or
- notices or terms tailored to your particular industry.

These disclaimers are provided on the legal basis described at www.startuplegal.com.au/terms-of-use/. You may cut and paste these disclaimers from this document, provided you do so to each as a whole.

You need to insert your full company name where indicated by an “XXX”.

Email disclaimer

This email (including any attachments) is confidential. If you have received it in error, then please notify the sender immediately and delete the original message.

Emails sent to us may not reach their intended recipient in some cases (including where suspected to be junk mail or to contain a virus). If you are concerned that an email might not reach its intended recipient, then please request confirmation of receipt in your email and contact the intended recipient if confirmation is not received.

Check any attachments for viruses and other defects before opening or using them. Except as required by law, we do not warrant that this email and any attachments are free of viruses or other defects, or from interception or interference, and to the extent permitted by law we limit our liability to resending a rectified version.

Opinions or views expressed in this email are those of the individual sender and not necessarily of XXX.

Newsletter disclaimer

This newsletter provides general information, not advice. Amongst other things, it does not take into account your particular situation, needs or objectives and might be based upon assumptions that do not apply to you. You should consult a suitably qualified professional if you require advice.

This newsletter is provided on the basis that we are not liable in connection with any use you make of it or reliance upon it. If by law that is not possible, then to the extent permitted by law we limit our liability (including for any error or defect in the newsletter or negligence regarding it) to resending a rectified version of it.

Opinions or views expressed in this newsletter are those of the relevant individual and not necessarily of XXX.

Copyright in this newsletter is owned by us (or our licensors) and we reserve all rights in it. You are not authorised to alter, adapt, publish or distribute it without our permission.
